

SupplyCore Inc.

SupplyCore specializes in global supply chain management and performance based logistics, ranging from the procurement of supplies to logistical support throughout the procurement process, all supported by cutting edge technology which enables visibility, interaction, accuracy, and efficiency.

Our Mission

SupplyCore is an integrated supply and procurement services company specializing in sourcing and providing materials and related services to government organizations both domestically and internationally.

Our Values

We value an environment of transparency and respect anchored in honesty, curiosity, humility and hard work. This translates into open and frank communication throughout the organization.

We value continuous improvement. We put the company's interest before our own agendas. We foster personal growth that advances the organization's goals.

SupplyCore Inc. takes affirmative actions as an equal opportunity employer to attract, promote, and retain the most fully qualified candidates without regard to race, creed, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, predisposing genetic characteristics, marital status, disability, special disabled veteran, veteran of the Vietnam era, recently separated veteran, or other protected veteran.

Experiential Learning

SupplyCore believes the core value of experiential learning will heighten the students' awareness of competencies necessary to compete in today's market and teach them how to apply academic theories in real-world business practices. Our projects encourage out-of-the box thinking, sharpen critical thinking skills, and promote leadership and accountability.

Internship Program

Our Program

As a global leader in supply chain management for the defense industry, we provide an internship program that gives students an opportunity to gain practical, challenging, and meaningful real-world work experiences.

We share our internship opportunities with accredited educational institutions and certification programs. Any student who meets our project requirements and that of their educational institution can submit an internship application.

We offer an array of projects that fit within the scope of our business categories. Our program is enriched with project-based learning opportunities that are carefully drafted with learning objectives to ensure each project supports both the intern's academic goals and the company's business developments. Each intern receives mentorship from our managers while receiving company-wide support.

Collaboration

SupplyCore works with interns, career counselors, and internship and academic advisors to establish solid partnerships. Once an intern has been selected, we carefully review the project with the intern and related advisors to make certain the project meets academic requirements and results in success.

Program Standards

Successful interns are creative, independent thinkers and team players, eager to learn, take initiative, and have excellent communication skills. We recognize that each individual selects an educational institution or certification program to meet their unique academic and career goals.

For educational institutions or certification programs:

SupplyCore requires each college, university, or certificate program be accredited by at least one accrediting agency. We encourage the provision of earned credit and a notation of successful completion on student transcripts. For those institutions that provide this recognition, we thank you.

Leadership

For internship applicants:

SupplyCore requires that each applicant have a 3.0 GPA or equivalent. Students attending a traditional four-year college or university will have a declared major and be enrolled in a full-time bachelor's or master's degree program. Students attending a trade or traditional two-year school or certification program must be enrolled full-time, or equivalent thereof, and have a declared field of study.
